

One of our greatest freedoms lies in our wildly disparate media outlets. To tailor public policy to the bottom line of a few media conglomerates is an outrage.